“ My heart is heavy on learning the news about Cecile. I recall many happy and fun times with Cecile in high school. My thoughts and prayers are with her siblings and their families. She will be missed.

“ Cile left us too soon. She was my boss when I first started working and her insistence on treating her reports with fairness and her ability to offer professional guidance has influenced me my entire working life. I will never forget my first full summer in Houston after moving from the North East, Cile saw me wilting in the heat and arranged for me to be temporarily transferred to the Calgary office for some relief - probably saved my life :)

After she retired, and even before, we became good friends and continued to socialize with a group of former colleagues at a monthly poker game for many years. It was always a pleasure to play and enjoy her company. The poker group grew as some of us married and had children and shrank with the passing and moving of members until it finally disbanded after 25 years or more. After that, some of us would get together for lunch on occasion and I was able to keep in touch with Cile that way. This continued until just a few weeks before her passing.

Cile was in my life for more than 35 years and I am better for that. I will miss her and remember her dearly the rest of my life.
