“ I remember him coming into The Egg And I on Memorial Dr where I worked and I would sit and talk with him. He was very funny, very nice and respectful.

“ Bob - when our local CPA firm merged with your national firm in 1969 you were among the first to welcome us and assist in our transition into the "Big Eight" culture of Ernst & Ernst. I have always cherished the friendship we developed and the encouragement that you furnished. During your retirement I applauded your public admonishments of city officials when they tended to stray from dedicated service to the citizens. Bob, you have been a great servant to mankind - may you rest in well deserved peace.
