

Andrea Knight Robertson

February 11, 1951 - April 8, 2013

Andrea Knight Robertson was taken from our world in an instant on Monday, April 8, 2013, by an accused drunk driver in Galveston. She is with her Savior, Jesus Christ, watching over us as she did her whole life on earth. Our world, as we knew it, is gone. Her children, Anthony, Angela and Cheslea Robertson, grieve the loss of their mother. Her grandchildren, Kalysta, Hannah and Giana, did not have enough time with the grandmother they so dearly loved. Her family and countless friends will celebrate Andrea's life every moment of their own lives. She would be the first to tell us to do this.

Andrea, a devoted Christian, shared her spiritual home between her daughters' church at West Houston Christian Center lead by Pastors Jack and Mary Jean Pidgeon and Island Church in Galveston led by Pastors Rusty and Leah Martin.

The term "steel magnolia" best describes our Andrea. She was gracious. Manners. "Please" and "Thank You," a proper table setting, a lovely, decorated, warm home that welcomed everyone. A polished Southern lady.

And her spirit was made of steel. She spoke so softly, but always clearly. Always sincerely. "I love you, baby," she always told her children. "I understand," she always said to her family and friends when troubled times hit. "Hey, friend," she'd shout at you from her front gate.

She loved music: Her mother, singer Edie Hillburn Knight, and her father, pianist Bill Knight, gave her a great love of jazz. And "jazzy" she was! Beautiful and stylish, she loved a night on the town listening and dancing to live music.

Andrea lived a life without regrets. Instead, she was full of gratitude. She was grateful to Troy Robertson for the devoted father he is to their children and grandchildren. She was grateful for her friends, especially the life-long friendships of Linda "Missy" Vaughn, Lin Mikulenska and Robyn Nakakoji. She was grateful for her wonderful neighbors in Galveston and being able to live her dream of having a "cottage by the sea." She was grateful to Home Depot for her job and the many dear friends she found there.

In short, she was grateful to God for her family, her friends, for the sunshine and the beach- every day. And although she never lived large, she was a large and steady spirit in our world, a world that was once a brighter place because she graced us with her love and compassion.

Please join her family in a celebration of love and faith on Friday, April 19, 2013, 4 p.m., at West Houston Christian Center, 11300 Wilcrest Green Drive, Houston, TX.

Please consider contributions in Andrea's memory to The Andrea Robertson Memorial Fund/Educational Fund, in care of Cheslea Robertson and Angela Robertson. Contributions may be mailed to West Houston Christian Center, 11300 Wilcrest Green Drive, Houston, TX 77042 or call Cheslea Robertson at (713) 954-9422 for more information.

As I get ready to join your family Andrea, I pray that you are healthy, happy and whole again. You have shared so much over the years with my family and I will always remember you with love, respect and much appreciation for being the best friend my mother could ever have and a second mother to us. Sleep with the Angels, Andrea, and walk with the Lord!

“ Andrea, you will be missed so very much. I looked forward to seeing you each morning. You were such a thoughtful and caring person. You always genuinely asked about my family and made sure I was okay when you thought I wasn't feeling well or anything else. I loved our talks about our gardens and flower beds and hearing about your weekends with your family and stories about your grandchildren. Work will not be the same without you. I know you are looking down on us from above.

“ You were so loved by your MET and Home Depot family. Work is not the same for any of us. Be it early in the morning and you putting on makeup in the break room or singing with me in the aisles, there is an empty place that you once filled. Cheslea, Anthony and Angela. Your Mom talked about you all the time and of course her grand children. I felt as if I knew you all. She loved you all so very much. Watch over us all, Andrea. Until we see you again. Love you.
