“ So sad to learn Don has passed so young. Remember Don as a brother in law who was a lovely father and husband and liked reminding us that he went to Stanford with Tom Watson the golfer.

“ It seems that Don moved about as many times as I did as a youngster.

I knew Don in New Orleans and have been looking for him and others I knew "along my road" in different places we lived. He is one person that stood out, even though only in 4th & 5th grad, that I to this day remember..

It is sad to see notice of his passing but great to see that he had a full life and has a beautiful family.

“ Don was a special friend at Memorial High School in Houston. He was one of the smartest students at the school, but he was very modest and he was well-liked by everyone who knew him. Don had a very dry sense of humor, and he liked to make little jokes about the absurdity of some high school events. I remember working on his campaign for president of our Senior Class, which, to our delight, he won. I also enjoyed his leadership in the Student Council and the National Honor Society.

I wish I had stayed in better touch with Don after graduation (which he called "an honorable discharge"). I send my sincere condolences to his whole family.

Fondly,

Catherine ("Cathy") Anthony Arnold

“ Remembering “The Donald” with fond memories of Weybridge, England; being half of the match maker team with Jane, as well as croquet in the garden, garden parties, and Friday nights at the Ackbar Indian restaurant in Richmond. Returning to Houston, the birth of your two amazing sons, and all the fun dinners, interesting evenings, and enjoyable times we have shared over the years. The Donald is on another journey, and to Jane, Jonathan and Christopher our deepest sympathies and much love as your hearts heal in the coming days ahead.
Love from us both, Jim and Nicky Scott
