

Janina Allison Taylor

November 3, 1988 - January 3, 2011

Janina Allison Taylor, 22 of Houston passed away Monday, January 3, 2011. Janina was born November 3, 1988 in Boston, MA to Maria Alicia Taylor and Clarence Bradford "Brad" Taylor. She is survived by her parents and brother, Tristan Reyes.

Janina was a precocious child. She learned to read at a very young age and as she grew and matured, she developed a love of literature of all kinds. She was always inquisitive and had many natural talents. She developed her own creative writing style and loved to tell a good story. She loved animals of all kinds. She loved to go horseback riding whenever she could. She was home schooled by her Mother for the Elementary school. She later was enrolled at Duchesne Academy, where she made many friends. She was a national merit semi-finalist. She won 3rd place in the Houston inventors contest.

Janina attended several advanced study programs at Duke University and Stanford. She was a world traveler having visited Europe one year and Asia (Philippines) other times. She liked to read books in the original language (French). She had a very loving nature and was a natural psychic healer. During her later days she turned more and more towards religion, especially to our Lord Jesus Christ. She enjoyed and was quite good at sketching and drawing. She also enjoyed drawing comics. Her potential was never fully tapped.

“ I loved Janina very much. She had a complex and vibrant mind, a disarming sense of humor, and a fantastic way with words. I'm glad I had the chance to be her friend, however briefly.

“ I remember Janina first as a baby who did not like me very much. Later I remember her as a shy young girl with a very sweet smile and a quick laugh. I very much wish I could have known her better, I think we would have been good friends as well as cousins had we lived much closer.

“ I remember her shyness & at the same time not afraid to talk. I remember her as very smart, her high, light voice, her smiles. I am sorry I never had the chance to know her better. She was family & I loved her. -

“ My memories of Janina. Her serene and courageous presence at Danny's funeral. Sharing sushi and hopes and dreams on a sunny, winter day. Talking about art and life. Listening to her funny stories about her beloved cat and dog. Shopping for and finding a pretty dress for her. Savoring the flavors of the Philippines with Janina and Maria. Her many thoughtful gifts to me. The Girl with the Pearl Ear Ring. Listening to her recite her poem about the anvil and the crystal. Laughter and tears. Her beautiful photo tribute to Danny. Her quirky sense of humor. And what I will miss the very most: that high, shy, lilting voice that was one part orange blossoms, one part honey, and one part jasmine tea. Her beautiful presence will live on in the hearts of those of us who loved her. Rest, my friend, rest in peace.

“ Janina is my niece. I did not know her well since we live at opposite ends of the country, but I knew her as a bright, highly intelligent person. I remember when she was 10, she designed a website and it was lovely. My mind picture of her was always a brightly burning flame, laughing at the world.
