“ I'm Mary Ann's first cousin up in Nevada, TX and so sorry for your loss. Prayers and condolences to the family. After moving to Texas in 2012 my husband and I went to Houston so I could meet her. From the moment she opened their door there was no doubt she was family. She was instantly so warm, loving and welcoming. We thoroughly enjoyed that day with her and Don visiting, going to lunch, looking at pictures of her granddaughters wedding and showing her the old family photos, of her mother's side, I brought to them. I met Mary Angela but, I think, Donna was out of town. We talked on the phone a few times since and had planned to go back down, this time with our son so Mary Ann could meet him and I could then meet Donna. Although that never came about I am thankful for getting to meet her and will cherish that day. Sorry this is so late but I just recently heard about her passing and, unfortunately, our son passed away November 19th so have been rather busy. Rest in eternal Peace dear cousin.

“ I grew up listening to my mom and Mary Ann talking on the phone several times a day. Although they didn't see each other often they were as close as sisters. They were always there for each other in good times and bad. Of course they were both die hard Steeler fans and tough Monday morning quarterbacks. With Christmas coming soon, I always think of those wonderful little chocolate balls. Mary Ann would come over and spend all day in the kitchen with mom making them. When she left it looked like it rained chocolate balls while we waited for the glaze to dry. They were delicious! I am so glad that Mary Ann was a part of the McMeekin story. She really was one of a kind. Rest In Peace

“ Mrs Bauer, as i was taught to call her 50+ years ago, was my mother Jean McMcMeekin’s best friend. They visited daily by phone, drank coffee, gossiped then asked forgiveness, laughed, cried, and were there for each other. My mother passes first, but I know she greeted Mary Ann with welcome arms and a cup of coffee. Rest In Peace.

“ The great memories of holidays with all The National Supply families down on Brookston, singing, dancing playing password and just having tons of fun. Especially later in the evening when breaking out The Mitch Miller Christmas music and singing like on the American Idol show! One especially fond memory is Mary Ann, Audrey Parker in the hospital room as she was fading fast from the cancer that took her to be with all her family and friend that had passed before . I will always love her for being there for my mom. Rest in Peace Mary Ann Bauer and one day we will all see and sing together again.

“ Don & Mary Ann lived across the street from my in laws. They were such warm and welcoming people. We would visit them often and always went inside their home on Halloween with our daughter to trick or treat. When my in laws had an emergency while our daughter was at their house, Mary Ann lovingly took care of our daughter-making her luch and playing with her until I could pick her up. When my in laws didn't have electricity after a storm(Don & Mary Ann did), they offered to run extension lines across the street so my in laws could use their electricity. Mary Ann was such of loving and caring lady. She will truly be missed. Our condolences to Donna and the entire Bauer family.
