Maurice Joseph Picheloup, IV, age 66, died at home on July 16, 2015, following a brief but courageous battle with brain cancer. A resident of Houston for over 40 years, Maury was born in New Orleans on April 20, 1949 to Maurice J. Picheloup, III and the late Amelie Umbach (“Tiny”) Picheloup. In addition to his father, he is also survived by his sister, Claire Picheloup Gisclair and spouse Derby Gisclair, all of New Orleans.

Maury will be remembered and loved by many for his amazing athleticism in golf and basketball, his incredible memory, his caring heart and contagious laugh.

“ Dear Allison and Family,

We wanted to send a brief note to express our condolences for your loss. We just returned from a trip and I saw the email about Maury. I wish I had been here to attend the services. I enjoyed knowing and working with Maury. We had some great times during our time together in the Lubricants business.

We will keep you and your family in our thoughts and prayers during this difficult time.

“ Dear Mrs. Picheloup, I saw the obituary about Maurice in the paper here in New Orleans. I taught Maurice (whom I knew as Mo) chemistry when he was in school at Jesuit. I have seen his father since then, but not in quite some time and I don't think I have seen Maurice since he was in my class at Jesuit. He was a good student wna we got along well. I am still at Jesuit, but in the alumni department and not teaching anymore. I have remembered him in my Masses and will continue to do so. Please express my sorrow to the rest of the family. Let me know if there is anything else I can do for you. Some of his classmates have been sending around emails to each other about his death. They obviously thought a lot about him.

Sincerely, Fr. Norman O'Neal, S.J.

“ Dear Alison and Family,

I first met Maury in the 2nd grade; he was in the 1st grade. We became fast friends through the years, including our years together at St. Francis Xavier, Jesuit High School, golf throughout our high school and college years, a semester together at LSU as roommates, when Maury married Alison. I cherish everything about him. He was always a gracious gentleman in every sense of that word with an uncommonly good mind, great sense of humor (that laugh), and a competitive spirit in everything he undertook. I will genuinely miss him but he will always be a part of me.
