

Patsy Logan

December 10, 1930 - June 19, 2024

Patsy Logan, 93, of Houston, Texas entered eternal rest on June 19, 2024. Patsy was born December 10, 1930, in San Antonio, Texas to Martha Ann and Warwick Clark Byrd. She is preceded in death by her parents, four brothers, and beloved husband, Jack. She is survived by her children: Pat (Janice) Logan, Tim (Jane) Logan, Katie (Anthony) Amore, and Kevin (Susan) Logan; Grandchildren: Angela (Nick) Wengrenovich, Sarah (Charlie) Logan Braziel, Jessica (Chase) Hopper, Vincent (Amanda) Amore, Katie Logan, Megan (Rodrigo) Ramos, Andrea (Trevor) Rowlett, Nick Logan and Eric Logan; Great Grandchildren Elizabeth, Walter, Mason, Charlotte, Jack, Henry, Elijah, Claire, Emilia, Owen, Lawrence, and Audrey.

Patsy grew up in San Antonio and graduated from St. Mary's High School (class of 1947). After a short while working for the phone company, she married Jack, the love of her life, and started her family, to whom she was devoted throughout her life. Patsy excelled as a "Stay at Home" Mom. She made the most out of little as Jack was beginning his work career and she became a wizard with meat and potatoes and leftovers. Patsy's cooking skills grew with the family and peaked while living in Lafayette La. where she became proficient in Cajun Cuisine including gumbo. All of her children remember their favorite dishes which she graciously prepared for birthday celebrations and friends and family always looked forward to a tray of her cookies or pralines. She sometimes said she was a "mean" mommy. She ran a tight ship, but her children never doubted her love or that she was always there for them. She loved her husband foremost, her children, then her grandchildren and then her great grandchildren! A family gathering with all of these people brought her the most joy and excitement.

Patsy enjoyed playing cards (especially bridge); games; gardening; and working puzzles. Patsy never knew a stranger. Within moments of meeting a new person, she somehow had found a common connection either with them or a friend or relative.

Patsy's family is grateful for the care she received from the staff of Magnolia Way and the loving caretakers from Pam's Senior Helpers. In a short time, these loving ladies became family to her.

“ I also always think of the train ride in the hill country!

I've been racking my brain trying to come up with memories of just Grandma and almost all of my memories of her are also with Papa. Which I think is one of the things that I'm so grateful for. They were a packaged deal. She was so devoted to him and him to her and that's an example for all of us. I remember many hands of cards played around their table in Marble Falls. I remember when their friends would come over for Bridge when we stayed with them over the summer. I loved that they had such a community of friends in Marble Falls and getting to see a glimpse of that while we stayed with them. She was always ready with a pack of peanut butter crackers on one of our excursions and a story of how someone knew someone else. Even as she got older, the first thing she wanted to do when she would come over was to help get ready for whatever gathering we were going to have.

I'll keep thinking for more specifics, too.

“ The most recent memory is when Amanda refused to cut Owen’s hair, and I was showing grandma a picture of the kids and she told me I had 2 beautiful daughters...Owen got a hair cut the next day.

One time papa took us on a train ride through the hill country as an excursion one time. Grandma and mom found every train crossing on the route and met the train there and were waving at us, by the end of the train ride everyone on the train knew grandma and mom as the crazy train ladies.

“ Grandma Logan was kind, generous and practical. She embodied the “six degrees of human separation” and it was her daily testament to seek how a new friend was connected to known friends or family. Connections were her magnetism. Connecting strangers was a passion along with her love for traditions. She embraced her patterns and leaned into them joyously. For breakfast it was the Kellogg Character spoons. At holiday celebrations she always had double batches of pralines and ice box cookies. This way everyone could enjoy in the now and later at home. For the grandchildren it was practical acts of responsibility, setting everyone up with investment stocks and computers for high school. These acts of steadfast consistency showcase the rock of dependency that grandma was for all the grandchildren through her later life.
