

Paul Junior King

June 3, 1978 - March 15, 2020

Paul Junior King, 41, of Houston passed away Sunday, March 15, 2020 while enjoying one of his favorite pastimes, cycling. Paul was born June 3, 1978 in London, England to Paul Arthur King and Edwina Attard King. He is survived by his parents; wife of 16 years, Vanessa Marie King; daughters, Imogen Marie King and Lucia Violet King; sister, Janine Spence & husband Tom; mother-in-law and father-in-law, Marie and Alan Richmond; sisters-in-law, Danielle Hume & husband Andy, Louise Smith & husband Andy; Nieces and nephews; Noa Spence, Alfie Hume, Oliver Hume & Eleanor Smith.

He attended Fettes College in Edinburgh, Scotland and University College London where he attained his Master's Degree in Chemical Engineering. He spent his entire career with Transocean, and was hugely respected and successful, becoming Senior Manager of Operations and Efficiency. He met the love of his life, Vanessa while at university in London and they married in April 2003. They moved to Houston, where Imogen and Lucia were born, and travelled extensively with his work, making many lifelong friendships along the way.

Paul lived life to the full, he was an avid sportsman, playing rugby for the national team of Malta. He enjoyed soccer and was a dedicated fan of Tottenham Hotspur and encouraged his daughters to support them as well. He also enjoyed coaching his daughter's basketball team. As much as he loved sports, it did not even come close to how much he loved his wife and two daughters. Paul was a kind, generous, and truly lovely person, who adored his family, and they adored him too. He was a caring son and loving brother, as well as an amazing husband, and the perfect Daddy, supporting them in everything they did and brightening up their days with lots of fun and laughter.

Paul's fun loving nature made him the life and soul of any party, and he will be a huge loss to all who had the privilege to meet him, however he most certainly will never be forgotten.

Due to the Coronavirus Paul will be remembered in a private family ceremony and laid to rest in Memorial Oaks Cemetery. A Memorial Mass to celebrate his life with his family, friends and colleagues will be held Friday, April 8, 2022 at 1:30 PM at St. John Vianney Catholic Church, 625 Nottingham Oaks Trail, Houston, TX 77079. In lieu of flowers the family would appreciate donations to the American Heart Foundation or the British Heart Foundation.

“ Paul was very fun to be around and always warm to us. He left us a lot of fun memories. His love for Imogen and Lucia was so sweet that he lit up every time he talked about them. He was even brave enough to coach girls basketball team. We will remember him with a smile on our faces. Our condolences to Vanessa, Imogen, and Lucia.

“ Our deepest condolences to Vanessa, Imogen, Lucia, and the rest of Paul’s family. We will always remember Paul with a big smile and the great sense of humor he always displayed on our “Gymboree” meetings. It was a great pleasure to share so many good moments with him during the early years of our children when our families grew together so far from our countries of origin.

We always saw him as a great husband, father and friend. We miss you and will never understand why you were taken from us so soon.

“ All memories of Paul lead to a smile and a laugh. He was such a delight to be around. A great family man, with pride and love for his family that was palpable. His loss leaves all that knew him with a hollowed ache that only great memories can ease - thank God he's left us with many.

No words can express the grief we feel for his loss, or our condolences to Vanessa, Imogen, Lucia and the rest of his family.

Always in our thoughts, always in our prayers, may our memories and yours help ease a fraction of the pain.

Always here for you,

“ Dear Vanessa, Imogen & Lucia,

Our deepest condolences to you, your and Paul's family. Such a wonderful big guy with always a smile. Helpful, active & in for a joke. And he made us addicted to P90X. Do you remember us gaining weight after some years in Houston and Paul introduced us to P90X? After a few months we looked better 😊 and till today we are still using this sports channel, thanks to Paul.

Know that you are always in our hearts 💕💕

“ Paul was the most wonderful guy in so many ways. He was loved by everyone who met him - it was impossible not to love him. Such a gentle giant but also so full of life and always happy. We had some wild and wonderful times during our endless summers in Malta. We loved to dance in Havana where it was always a competition to be up on the stage.

I also remember his beloved white Suzuki which he adored. One night we did a challenge to see how many people could fit in it. I have the number 22 in my (although that could be a little inflated). And we drove home like that...Hanging out the roof with only a foot in the car... oh dear!

I remember when he started UCL and our parties moved to the flat in Redcliffe Gardens, where more fun was had and more happy memories were made.

I have no doubt that he was as good at being a father and husband as he was at everything else. I remember how in love with Vanessa he was and I wish I could have seen more of him over the last few years. I would love to see how happy he made his daughters and how proud he would have been of them.

I am devastated he has gone, especially for all his family who loved him so much, but for me, I will always picture him dancing in Havana and I will always smile when I think of him. I love you Paul - thank you for all the happy times you gave us.

“ Dear Edwina and Paul no words can convey my sadness for the loss of your dearest son Paul. I do not really know him but from what I have heard he is all that I would have loved to have in a son. And knowing you both I truly believe he was a wonderful person. My heart aches for you and your family and pray that everyday is a less painful day and with the help of time and faith the pain becomes a memory of his wonderful and meaningful life he had with you and his wife and children. “ As the days and weeks pass, may support of family and friends bring comfort and peace. Proverbs 17:17 says, "A true friend shows love at all times. And is a brother who is born for times of distress" Grief can be so hard, but allow your special memories help you all to cherish a life well lived and loved.

“ Only the good die young! I have so many great memories of time spent with Paul when we were teenagers. Paul was a couple of years older so he would always oblige and take us galavanting around in his White Suzuki Vitara in Malta. We got up to a lot of mischief and had a whole lot of fun. Paul never said a bad word about anyone and was always kind and super friendly to all. A true Gent! His and Ja's flat in Earl's Court, London had an open door policy where we were always welcome to come over and hang out when in town. He loved his sister immensely and his family always came first. My heart goes out to his parents, his lovely wife Vanessa and two his beautiful daughters, Imogen and Lucia who know better than anyone what a special person their Father was. RIP my friend.

“ I was lucky to have worked with Paul, during his time in Perth and while I have many fond memories of this time, all blend in to one of laughter and mischievousness.
Paul was such a character, always entertaining and making people laugh. He was the 'Chief Entertainment Officer' after all, or so he told us. On most occasion he would be lunging around the office in Lycra, just to make us uncomfortable - a memory that will forever be etched in our minds! Thanks PK.

My heart goes out to Vanessa, Imogen & Lucia, of whom he spoke about with such happiness and pride, and of course all of Paul's family and friends.

“ Paul, it has been an honour and a privilege to have you in our lives and to share so many fun times in Perth, Houston and the UK.

Thanks for the laughs, the bike rides, the bbq's, banter and the endless silly fun. You loved life and showed us all how to live it to its fullest. I will fondly remember our daily rides to work in Perth, while I tried to hang on your wheel as you and Julian cycled ahead chatting, before you'd leave me for dust and race to the bridge.

My favourite times were sharing family days hanging by the pool and you just throwing the kids around. You always knew how to have fun and were just the best dad to Imogen and Lucia.

Tonight we barbecued in your honour whilst listening to a song that reminded us of Friday nights shared together at Phillips Road... "I'm sexy and I know it"... what else?"

The road doesn't end here. Keep riding up there and one day we will race again.

“ Paul and Edwina, Janine and Tom, Vanessa and Imogen and Lucia....

Today, we come together to celebrate the life of Paul J. King.... It is a sad day because we who are left behind, especially his family, are filled with sorrow; however, it is also a day for remembering - remembering not only God's promises to us but also everything that Paul stood for. It is a day for remembering that God will wipe away the tears from all faces, that God will destroy Death forever. We will eventually rejoice in the Resurrection.

I can understand that this is a very difficult and challenging moment in your lives. No one has ever imagined that Paul J., who was full of life had to pass away so suddenly.

I've first met Paul here in this Church few years ago when Ja and Tom got married. He was a :good soul, vibrant and, positive person. From many who knew him ,all described Paul as a real gentleman, kind and joyful. Our heartfelt condolences to you all, family relatives and friends. Know That God is with you and remain with you.

At a time like this we feel lost and helpless. But we are not without hope. We are not without help. God is with us.

(Dearest Imogen and Lucia: "I m so so sorry. This is terrible what has happened to you. You have lost someone very special..... when you are feeling sad and missing daddy Don't be shy to turn to Jesus and share your sorrows with him...The closer you are to Jesus, the more you feel Daddy close to you (for daddy is now very close to Jesus).... I from my side will keep you and your families in my prayers. Promise.)

May the God of all consolation open our hearts that we may comfort each other and find Light in this time of darkness, and Faith in time of doubt. May the Christ who is the Way, the Truth and the Life, grant him eternal rest. Amen.

“ It is devastating to have to write these words, and I am sending this all my love to Vanessa, Imogen, Lucia, Janine and Paul’s parents at this time. Paul was in the same halls as me at university, and I met him in the first few days at halls - a trip to the chip shop after the Clubhouse with others at that time is still clear in my memory. Whilst not on the same course, our paths crossed through rugby nights in the union and in my capacity as an “hon” chem eng student. I was so lucky to be spend time with Vanessa and him in the years after university, but not enough time, how could anyone have known? He was the friendliest, most awesome person and such a devoted husband and father, whose love for his girls was plain to see. Paul, you’ve been taken from us far too young, and you will be so deeply missed. The world is poorer without you, but your presence in our lives has enriched us. Much love Jo xx

These photos capture some of Paul Junior's happiest times in a life that was far too brief. They triggered so many beautiful memories and reminiscenes.

They made us smile, cry and, above all, realize how much we shall miss our precious nephew.

Since I can remember Paul and I played the circle game! I will always remember when Paul and Vanessa were driving away from the wedding. Sharon and myself will be sharing with you this experience.

Please accept our deepest sympathy, Of course, we did not have the opportunity to know Paul, but we know from the parents who formed him that his life was blessed beyond measure. In times like these, we search in vain for words that console. The sad departure of a dear son leaves us with deep sorrow in our heart. But I'm sure that you are capable of facing this experience. Our most sincere prayers are that God will give you peace at heart and except the courage to except deep grief in your life.

In sympathy, we remain united with you.

“ Paul Junior King arrived in Kimmerghame in 1992 and immediately became part of our tight knit gang... he was charming, goofy, happy and clicked immediately into a House dominated by international kids who wore baggy jeans, listened mainly to hip hop and loved American sports just as much as football and rugby...

Paul's love for his family shone through, the Kings were always a team he was about as great a big brother as you could hope for. Janine and Paul were one of the great duos at Fettes, they were always happy just to be around each other - no awkward teenager stuff, just smiles and messing about. Paul's beautiful family with Vanessa follows the example his parents set - he just loved them all down much and had a heart big enough for everyone.

It's impossible for me to think about Paul without basketball which we both loved. I still have a 1995 NBA Western Conference Final ticket (Rockets v Somics) he gave me, a typically effortless and thoughtful gesture of friendship from Paul. In the 90s we snuck down to the prefects tv to watch the 1996 NBA finals together (3am games at the height of our final exams) and now, in the 20s, we'd WhatsApp each other live as his Rockets played my Lakers...

Paul would let me borrow his Levi silvertabs, play me at Mario Kart deep into the night and bought me my first legal pint of beer (Filling Station on the Royal Mile) when I turned 18... I will treasure these and a thousand other goofy, silly, hilarious, kind and thoughtful memories. My heart breaks that none of us will get to make any more of these memories with Paul, but the fact he created so many with us all gives evidence to just what a wonderful friend, husband, father, son and brother he was. All my love to the whole King family.

And Paul, rest in peace my dearly beloved friend

“ Vanessa and your beautiful girls, Janine and your loving parents I have no idea what you are dealing with right now and I’m so sorry for your loss. This man of yours was an incredibly special soul. I only saw Paul a few times after leaving school but they were always memorial. My memories of school were that he was just the most caring and supportive brother I’d ever seen. Most brothers would almost be embarrassed to see their sisters . I remember Paul coming to Arniston just to see his sister and both of them were always so happy to see each other at all times. They were like excitable jumping puppies around each other. Janine always looked up to him. He was a good friend to all , so big and always gave the best bear hugs! I remember when he first got his 1st 15 rugby colours scarf. He strutted around with it wearing it with such emmense pride, he kept flicking it over his shoulder. When I picture Paul it’s with his scarf on! With a huge big cheeky dimply smile. He was the perfect concoction of everything that makes up the perfect person. He was always kind to people and the first to give you a hug if he could see it was needed or just was always there for a chat. When a rugby game was lost all the boys would look so grumpy and unapproachable but Paul always managed a smile, he knew it was just a game. He was also a true gentleman and always treated people with respect but was full of fun and goofy ness. He was also so fun loving and spontaneous .once he got on a train to Edinburgh from London for a party of a fiend of mine without even thinking of where he might stay or any Change of clothes . About 6 of us ended up sleeping on the floor of the birthday girl in her Edinburgh halls with nothing to keep us warm. Paul being Paul. Dressed up in her pink frilly dressing gown. It looked ridiculous he was freezing but he made us all laugh so much! When Janine talked about the dad that he had become I just felt these gorgeous girls were so lucky to have a dad like him. From knowing him as a child I could imagine the kind of amazing father he would be. Janine said every night he would say “ dream big, little one” to them. I loved this so much that when I had my own kids I adopted it too. I will always think of you and when my children are old enough I will tell them why I say that to them at night and who gave me the idea for it. So even though I'd not seen you Paul in so long my golly you are going to be missed so much. This was not the plan . What I do know is the whole King family will have so many amazing memories of this incredible guy to last a lifetime. I am so so sorry for your loss. Lots of love Vicky x

“ Paul, (Kinky, Fozzie, Junior, PK), you have been taken far too young my friend. It's clear from all these messages from all walks of life that the wonderful person I met at school back in the early 90s really did go on to become a special person to so many. Your American accent in Scotland made you stand out, you could play basketball and throw a football (American) better than anyone I knew. You had the best rock CD collection ever (hours of head banging to Van Halen and Meatloaf in your study)! You could even play rugby, even though we wound you up that you didn't know the English rugby team beyond Will Carling! You were a gentle giant, always full of mischief but capable of great acts of kindness too. When I think back now you were destined to be an amazing husband and daddy. You're entire family are one of the kindest, warmest I have encountered. Your mum and dad did an amazing job with you and Janine. They must be immensely proud of everything you've become. The past week has seen memories flood back. An unforgettable summer in Malta (you're open top jeep with happy hardcore blazing, tequila (with the worm) and meeting you and Vanessa in Edinburgh when Mika and I were back from Japan. After that we stayed in touch on WhatsApp and even then it was always full of laughs and promises to get the families together. You've left a huge gap in our lives mate, thankfully you also left us all some precious memories. Love you mate, Murdo. X

“ I am so sorry to hear of Paul's passing. I met Paul at Fettes. I was in the year below him and in the same boarding house as Janine. He was often found in Arniston to see his sister and to make as many of us laugh. You could not go around his presence which was always friendly, hilarious but in the kindest way. I never got to see you again after school Paul, but I know for sure everyone that had the pleasure of knowing you will have fond memories. I wish his family all the best wishes during this terribly sad time.

“ Paul and I had a catchphrase "Mine's in June"... He was a big brother to myself and my siblings. We all loved him, even though he would wind us up endlessly. Whether we were spending the summer at the King's family home in Malta or ours in Mallorca no one escaped being thrown in the pool by Paul. We used to have so much fun when our families were together because we were all as mad as each other.

We were so happy when Paul met Vanessa and loved the time we got to spend with them as a couple. Paul and Van's wedding was beautiful and a lot of fun. I don't think there was a dry eye in the house when Ja did her Best Woman speech, she was just so very happy for her brother and Vanessa.

Vanessa, sending you my love and although Paul is gone you have the most beautiful memory of him in Imogen and Lucia. Pig Paul and Edwina, I love you both very much. Paul had parts of each of you in him which made him the very special person he was. Ja, I don't know another sibling relationship like yours and Paul. I adored being around you together, although no one stood a chance next to your combined wit. Ja and Tom, I know your hearts are broken but I find a little peace knowing Noa is getting you through each day.

Marie, Alan, Danielle and Louise, I haven't seen you since Paul and Van's wedding but would always hear how you were doing through the Kings. I am so sorry for your loss, I know how close you were all with Paul.

“ So sorry to hear this. I remember joining Kimmerghame as a third former when Paul was in upper sixth. “ The more I read some of the beautiful memory comments in the obituary the more I find I am lost for words. Maybe, I do not want to repeat the wonderful things said or maybe I am still feeling the shock of Paul's passing away so suddenly and so early in life.

I am a visual person. Instead, I dedicate the 1928 painting by Rene Magritte titled 'Les Amants' (The Lovers), to Paul Jnr. and to everyone who had the privilege to know him. My message through this painting, is that LOVE will prevail in spite of the present social distancing we are facing today and in spite of Paul's untimely death.

With a heavy heart, I send my condolences especially to his wife Vanessa and his two girls Imogen and Lucia, Vanessa's parents, the King family namely Paul's parents Paul Snr. and my sister Edwina and my niece Janine, Tom and Noa and also to all his many uncles, aunts and cousins of the Attard family. “ Meeting Paul for the first time right after we moved to Houston you just knew he was one of those people who you would instantly feel at home with and always enjoy their company. During our 5 years in Houston we spent time with Paul and Vanessa Pre kids and then watched the wonderful King family grow as we then added to ours. A friend in work and out of work, we even ventured out onto the rugby field together at HARC ! Back then Houston rugby involved changing in the car and cooling off in a wheelie bin paying 7s in 90C ! We played in the centre together and even if we said so ourselves, were pretty good and scored a few tries in the sunshine. Paul and family headed to Oz and we went to Geneva and the family paths crossed once in while, but passing through the office we always managed a catch up and Paul would always have that positive smile beaming and a positive spin on life. Paul will never be forgotten and will always be attached to fond memories and that larger than life smile. All our love to the King family far and wide. The Hudson’s “ Paul was an amazing human being. It was impossible not to like and love Paul King. He was honest, sincere and very funny. He and I could spend hours talking and it never got boring. He had such a good heart and was always himself. I will never forget that instead of calling me by my name he called me papi like my kids call me, and that always made my day. He could be across the hall and he would yell “papi!”, not caring who would hear him or what people might think. That is part of what made him such a great person, he was himself. He will be missed. My heart goes out to Vanessa and the girls. I pray that God finds a way to bless them through these sad times and that they feel God’s peace at all times. Rest In Peace my good friend.

“ Paul was a legend of a man. One of my earliest memories of him was watching him charging through the Merchiston defence to score an awesome try for Fettes back in 1996/1997?! But since then he has grown from being a dude I looked up to at school to a man I admired for his ability to live life the way it should be lived. Every time our paths would cross there was a lasting memory made for me, be it cannonballs in Malta or Coldplay in a dingy venue in London, all orchestrated by him... such was his magic. His public support of Vanessa's successes is a lesson to all the partners out there and one I hope to emulate in my own marriage. Personally, despite being infrequent, I am going to miss our random banter and just knowing he is out there in the world making people smile. To Ja Ja and the family... Nothing but love always.

I remember this exact moment too - the game was being played up on Youngs for some reason and that try was the game winner... it was the 1995-6 season where Paul became (hands down) the best athlete the school had seen for a few years (Rugby, athletics, basketball). Chris F (K91-96)

“ We are still reeling from the terrible news of the tragic passing, a week ago, of our dearly beloved Paul Junior.

His loss defies understanding. We are in disbelief and shock, and yet to come to terms with a life tragically extinguished in its prime.

Paul's loss is particularly poignant because he had amazing zest for life. He was full of positive energy, with a huge sense of fun, joviality and vibrant enthusiasm. A magnetic all round personality with love of sports, but above all a truly lovable and kind person.

We were lucky to have him touch our lives, and his memory will forever be engraved on our hearts. Surely we will miss the sparkle in his eyes and his charming smile.

We loved Paul from the day he was born. He was our first born nephew. Aged two, he was our cute little page boy at our special day.

Paul was blessed with his parents, Paul and Edwina, who never thought anything mattered more than their children.

As we watched him grow from a boy into a teenager, we could see the remarkable man that he would become. He really had it all. He was a handsome, bright, energetic, smart young man, warm and caring.

What beautiful moments and fond memories we have of our Paul. How can we ever forget the day we celebrated Paul and Vanessa's wedding, or our rejoicing at the birth of their two gorgeous daughters, Imogen and Lucia.

Paul was a loving, devoted husband and a doting, exemplary father.

We will miss the boy, and the man he turned out to be. We will mourn the man who is gone, whom we lost so tragically, whose time was cruelly cut in half.

Heartbroken, with tears in our eyes, we bid him farewell.

Paul Junior we will miss you very much and always love you. Your kind soul will stay with us forever.

“ I was fortunate to meet Paul and Vanessa when I started university. For four wonderful years, I was blessed to share not only several lecture theatres in the engineering faculty with PK, but also the “rugby corner” of the 2nd floor bar and a social circle that loved him dearly. Big Paul’s stature and prowess on the rugby field were matched by the size of his smile, his personality and his loyalty as a friend.

The life and soul of many a gathering, Paul brought a smile to your face whether you were at a 9am tutorial, at Sunday morning training or on the back seat of the team bus on the way to (or even better, from) “Fortress Shenley”. He also had a way with words and I will never forget his colourful description of his academic performance when he used to walk out of examination halls convinced, with good reason, that he had aced them!

“First thrown together by Hurricane Ike in 2008, I remember you proudly alongside Vanessa, wheeling little Imogen around College Station all week. But it wasn't until you returned from Australia - now with Lucia on the team - and keen to join the local cycling scene that I really got to know you.

I've been out the saddle for 2 years and it's not the group rides I miss. I miss our pre-ride chats: in dimly lit coffee shops, still dark and cool outside, clear dark skies promising fair weather ahead; and just shooting the breeze - usually some gentle ribbing, a lot of chuckling and, sometimes, more serious chat...

"You know, I'm reading this book just now called 'Quiet'," Paul said. "Wait, what - the Susan Cain book? That's practically my textbook dude...but for you?"

"Well people just don't realize it's an effort for me, Dave."

"What is mate?"

"Talking to people!"

(...wasn't expecting THAT! Caught me mid-sip too, sending warm "velvety textured" coffee up through my nasal canal.)

"Seriously, Dave!"

"Yes...apparently...you are.", I managed to splutter through the milky foam mess now running down my face.

Until then I really had no idea you felt like that at times. So as we recall the warm, welcoming, gregarious, larger than life character, we'll also remember the effort, and that it wasn't as easy as you made it all seem.

To pre-ride chats on cool mornings;

To great coffee and well textured Flat Whites;

To underachieving football teams in white shirts, and underachieving rugby teams - also in white shirts;

To being there for a wide group of friends;

To listening to - and entertaining - colleagues;

To a successful career - and not taking it TOO seriously;

Most of all, to family and to your three girls - Vanessa, Imogen and Lucia.

*I'll see you down the road somewhere brother. Chapeau Paul!
Chapeau!*

Vanessa, When Paul sent me his condolences 2 years ago I never imagined writing this for the 3 girls in his life. I hope these words provide some comfort:

*Standing upon the seashore, a ship, at my side, spreads white sails to the morning breeze, and starts for the blue ocean.
An object of strength, I stand and watch, until at length, it hangs like a speck of white cloud where the sea and sky mingle.
Someone at my side says, "There. It's gone now."
Gone?
Gone from our sight, that is all.*

*He is just as grand in mast and hull and spar as when he left your side, and just as able to bear his load of living freight. The diminished size is in us. Not in him.
So when you catch yourself thinking "He is gone", remember others are there watching and welcoming his arrival.
And know that he will be there awaiting yours.
Because death is only a boundless horizon.*

We met at Fettes, where Janine and I were friends and if you were friends with Ja that made you family. I along with my family were fortunate enough to spend some epic holidays to South Africa, Malta and Sicily with Big Paul, Edwina, Jaja and Paulie. In Malta Paulie would drive me and Ja around in the Jeep especially home after drinking maybe one too many drinks with the music pumping!

When I moved to London after school I lived close to Ja and Paul and spent quite a lot of time there and Ja and I got to witness a love story in the making when he met Vanessa! I remember how loved to tease her about her accent and would say ‘Paul, my feet are like blocks of ice’. Vanessa was the missing piece he never knew he had.

Paul was the biggest kid, and up until very recently we were still playing a never ending virtual game of the circle game or whatever you call it when you make someone look at your pinched fingers and then when they do...punch them! Paul was also one for invading personal space, many a time when Ja and I would be watching a movie he would instead of finding a free spot, lie on us, and he wasn’t light. He would also like to stick fingers up noses, he favourite was to stick two up a nose and say, “perfect fit, what do you do with the other 3?!”

Thank you Paulie for driving me to my 1st day at Uni, thank you for being my friend, thank you for showing us what love looks like when you met and married Vanessa!

Janine, thanks for sharing your brother with us, were are all infinitely better off for knowing him. I don’t know of a closer sibling bond like you two had and it breaks my heart, but I know you have that beautiful little girl who will keep you smiling and laughing.

Vanessa, Lucia and Imogen I send you all the love I can muster across the ocean and the biggest Paulie bear hug.

Big Paul and Edwina, I am so sorry for your loss of your beautiful boy. Thank you for giving him to this world, cause he rocked it and everyone who met him loved him and that's no exaggeration.

Paulie- I love you, it was wrong that you were taken from your girls before your time. Watch out for us and we will reach out your Vanessa and the girls and keep your memory alive. X

“Paul was a fantastic friend and colleague, someone who made it fun to be at work. He was always enthusiastic to try new things and drive the company to new levels of data and technology. He was without doubt a people person and had a calmness that made everything less stressful and when it did get stressful he had a joke to lighten the mood.

I will certainly miss our office banter, jokes about spurs and our friendship. Be sure that when we can, we will all gather together and raise a glass (or more) to you Paul!!

My regret is that my times socializing with him outside of work were not as often as I would have liked. That was because he was all about his family. Vanessa I know no words can ease the pain but all my thoughts are with you, the girls and the rest of the family.

“ Heartfelt condolences to dearest Vanessa, Imogen and Lucia, to Aunty Edwina and Uncle Paul, and to Janine, Tom and Noa.

I have such wonderful, fond memories of the giggles and laughs we have shared. I shall always remember his special smile and his humour. He was a true gentleman, very respectful, very loving and caring person and was so proud of Vanessa and his two daughters. Paul will always be missed, ever remembered. A good soul has passed on, a good man has gone up to Heaven.

“ Our deepest condolences to Vanessa, Imogen and Lucia.

I first met Paul 14 years ago when we were both fairly fresh to Houston and along the way we worked closely together on The Enterprise project in 2009, Macondo recovery, Quantum and more recently Innovation. Throughout I've learnt a lot from Paul's affable nature and the way he communicates at all levels and walks of life. A sharp sense of humor and never shy to push the politically correct boundaries where his jokes were concerned. We were two offices apart and I really enjoyed regular coffee break discussions. More than anything I learnt Paul's passion for his work was very well balanced with his love for his family; he was very proud of both.

Go well my friend and we will continue to look for smooth stones down here

I can still recall him trying to get me to go to one of those spin classes in Korea with the crazy music and yelling instructor that no one could understand. He was so passionate about cycling. On the 5th floor, he would walk around telling us his silly jokes which we all laughed anyways. With the shocking news, all I can think about is his wife and daughters. He talked about his wife and kids any chance he could. He loved them very much. My condolences goes out to his entire family. “ Paul is one of those amazing individuals that you just felt fortunate and blessed to have as a friend.

He is someone I admire for many reasons; for being such a dedicated husband and father (his love for Vanessa, Imogen and Lucia was something beautiful to witness), for being a great and considered friend who is always there for you and ready to help people, for being a role model of a good citizen and responsible individual, for being passionate in achieving everything he set his mind to, for being a remarkable professional, for having such a positive attitude and positive outlook on things... it is a very long list, but ultimately Paul was someone you were glad to know and to have in your life.

Paul was a positive influence to this world and to those that were lucky enough to know him. My condolences and love to the King family. Rest in peace, my good friend - you will be sorely missed.

“ A young, fit, talented man who still had so much to give, simply gone too soon. Words cannot express this devastating loss, in particular the void left for Vanessa and the girls, they were so close. I had the pleasure of meeting the family just a couple of weeks ago and it was clear to see how tight a bond this family held, the girls adored their father and he adored them even more. Having only met Vanessa briefly, one could tell she is a strong individual, hard working and determined, she has friends here in all of us and can call upon us in times of need. Its evident from all the tributes here that Paul had the ability to not only perform in his field but he was able to do it in a way which encouraged others to follow his positive ways making the experience memorable and of course fun. Paul always had a smile on this face and was able to lighten the mood and bring others spirits up to his level, a true sign a genuine pure hearted individual.

Rest in Peace Paul and thanks...

“ I’m sure anyone who ever interacted with PK warmed to his special blend of energy, fun and mischievous giggles. I am sure he could be pretty serious too, but that wasn’t really part of our friendship.

I met Paul in my first week of college and we became very close friends - I have too many tales to tell but a few that spring to mind: Paul was an irritatingly naturally gifted athlete, quite how he wasn't a professional sportsman in a number of sports I don't know but I for some reason chose to take him on at rugby - for which my left, and then on the first day back, right ankle remember him kindly! Nigel Muyambi and I were fondly remembering a couple of days ago about our Wednesday morning phone calls in college from PK "ittttttt'sssssssss Match day baby!!!!!!".

I remember him somehow squeezing himself into a plastic chair (not sure you can imagine that without seeing it) and winning a swimming race in Malta.

My dad I proudly turned PK out for my local rugby club many years ago where he single handedly dominated the opposition and was held in exhalation by the old guys in the clubhouse afterwards! Paul was always up for it - although his keenness first the 'after Party' dwindled after he met the love of his life Vanessa who helped him knuckle down and get his degree - that said, we definitely appreciated the odd cameo for the anchor leg of a boat race! Paul was that rugby mate you could take home to meet your mum, he was always available for a chat and we had many silly day's and nights together in addition to minutes on the field. I was lucky enough to run into him more recently in Houston where we both ended up and enjoyed some good lunches and entertaining sports banter although it crushes me we never made the most of our proximity and now it's too late. I'm devastated for Paul, he had so much more to see and do. Vanessa I wish I could take every ounce of pain from you and your girls, I'm so very sad. And likewise for your and Paul's parents and for Janine - their love of him was only equal to his greatness as a human. My mum sends her love to you all, as do so many of Paul's friends. We all loved PK very much, I don't know why the good ones get taken early but please know my family and I are thinking of all of you. We are here for you when you need us.
