“ I smile when I think of Phil Nelson.

I not only had the priviledge of working with Phil, I was fortunate enough to enjoy many business lunches with him. Although I protested, he always insisted on picking up the tab ("this one is on the IRS"). Yes, the free lunch was nice, but what I remember most are his many stories, especially those about the early days of Lacrosse with his son, Mark.

I had just been blessed with my first child and it was reassuring to have someone that truly understood the love of family.

I will miss Phil, but I will not forget him

Sincerely,

Robert Burnham, AIA

“ Wonderful memories come flooding back.
They were such good times. The world will be a poorer place without Phil.
